(54) Title: THE EASY EMPTY BULK BAG

(57) Abstract: A bag for the stable and safe transportation of materials and the easy emptying of its contents, the bag allowing the easy access of its contents as the side /sides (h, g) can be unattached from each other and dropping to the ground thus exposing the contents to be removed from any angle from ground level upwards. The invention has great benefit in the reduction of labour man hours in the removal of the contents plus the reduction of possible injury to the individual removing the contents such as back strain and greatly increases productivity. The bag can be reused this is of huge benefit to the environment. Also this protects / reduces the use of fossil fuels.
